The Chapters of Endocrinologists and Renal Physicians are organising a combined medical education symposium.

The target audience for this symposium will be residents, senior residents, endocrinologists, nephrologists, nursing and allied health professionals working in hospitals that care for patients with diabetes and kidney diseases. We will also be extending the invitation to family physicians from general practice and polyclinics to attend this symposium.

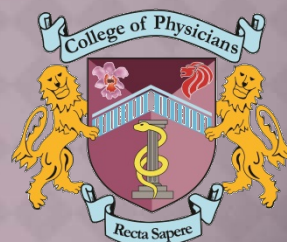

This is the first joint effort by the Chapters of Endocrinologists and Renal Physicians in holding a combined educational symposium on an important topic that is relevant to all levels of healthcare professionals in Singapore.

We look forward to your attendance and thank you for your time.
